ANNOUNCING PREMIERE

PROVIDENCE, RI: The Rhode Island visual arts project known as “NetWorks” will debut twelve new video portraits of exceptional Rhode Island artists on Sunday, November 1 at 1:00 p.m. Each portrait introduces the viewer to an artist’s work, process and sources of inspiration in an eight-minute segment.

The 2015 NetWorks artists are David Allyn, Jillian Barber, Deborah Baronas, Peter Diepenbrock, Gretchen Dow Simpson, Jerold Ehrlich, Ana Flores, David Frazer, Paul Housberg, Barbara Owen, Lisa Perez, and Richard Whitten.

The premiere of video portraits created by director and producer Richard Goulis will take place in the Metcalf Auditorium at the Chace Center, Rhode Island School of Design. Admission is free.

Rhode Island PBS (WSBE Channel 36) will broadcast the 2015 video portraits in two segments on December 20, 6:00—7:00 p.m. and December 27, 6:00—7:00 p.m. Check the Rhode Island PBS website for details.

The NetWorks project is supported and produced by Joseph A. Chazan, M.D. It was conceived to document, celebrate, and foster the richly creative and diverse contemporary visual arts community in Rhode Island. Since launching in 2008, NetWorks has created an archive of video and photographic profiles enriched by museum and gallery exhibits, catalogues, broadcasts and panel discussions.
